I am a freelance designer and videographer. With autodidactically acquired technical skills and an artistic mindset, I create good-looking and effective content in many different forms. Passionate and ambitious about my work, I always strive for the best results and create opportunities to grow and develop.

My goal is to become a professional service designer, especially dedicated to interactive and sustainable systems. Besides, I like to keep making videos as a hobby and second source of income, and dream to make a short film once.
